

6.2.2 The functioning of the institutional bodies is effective and efficient as visible from policies, administrative setup, appointment and service rules, procedures, etc.

The University is governed by Statutory Bodies. We also adhere to the directives circulated by the Ministry of Education/ GoI/ UGC.

The University follows University Grants Commission and the All-India Council for Technical Education Regulations for the appointment of teaching and other academic staff strictly. The rostering on various positions is done strictly as per the guidelines of the UGC and DoPT.

University has adopted the Central Civil Services rules (CCS rules) as the general code of conduct for all the employees, whereas promotions, service conditions and other perks to the faculty are provided as per the UGC regulations effective from time to time. This year 110 faculty members have promoted under CAS scheme.

The recruitment and promotion on the non-teaching positions are done using recruitment and promotion rules based on Model Ordinances of the UGC.

Stores & Purchase activities are conducted as per the General Financial Rules; whereas all Engineering Works are performed works as per the Central Public Works Department Work manuals; the Academic and the Examination Sections function as per the Statutes, Ordinances, Rules and Regulations enacted and as amended from time to time and overall financial procedures are motivated through PFMS.

It's great to hear that the functioning of the institutional bodies at Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya (GGV) is effective and efficient. The effectiveness and efficiency of an institution's functioning are crucial for achieving its goals and objectives. The visible evidence of effective functioning can be seen in policies, administrative setup, appointment and service rules, procedures, etc.

Here are some factors that may contribute to the effective and efficient functioning of the institutional bodies at GGV.

Clear policies and guidelines: The institutional bodies at GGV may have clear and well-defined policies and guidelines that provide a framework for decision-making and actions.

Efficient administrative setup: The administrative setup at GGV may be well-structured and efficient, ensuring that decisions are made quickly and efficiently.

Well-defined appointment and service rules: GGV may have clear and well-defined rules for the appointment and service of staff, which can help ensure that the right people are in the right positions and that staff members are motivated and supported.

Streamlined procedures: GGV may have streamlined procedures for various activities, such as admissions, examinations, student services, research, etc. This can help reduce bureaucracy and improve efficiency.

Effective communication: Effective communication among the institutional bodies at GGV can facilitate coordination and collaboration, which can lead to better decision-making and outcomes.

Overall, it's important to regularly review and evaluate the functioning of the institutional bodies at GGV to ensure that they remain effective and efficient. By continually improving and adapting to changing circumstances, GGV can maintain its reputation as a high-quality institution of higher education.
